Patrick Campe, Broker serves as a Commercial Consultant to Real Estate Consultants of Illinois, LLC. Launching his commercial real estate career as a teen, Pat worked summers as a janitor at a high-rise in Chicago, where he eventually moved into the role of leasing agent that propelled him to his first commercial property manager position five years later inside an 800,000 square foot office building on State Street in downtown Chicago.

Three years later Pat was hired to manage a portfolio of properties, responsible for producing annual operating budgets and tax & expense reconciliations of all tenants in his portfolio.

Pat delivers a unique perspective rich in a well rounded education of commercial business that spans from the physical and mechanical features of a commercial building to the complexities of each real estate transaction.

In May 2007, Pat earned his CCIM designation and directed his focus solely on his work as a Broker delivering a full menu of services to every client on either side of the transaction throughout the process of a commercial lease or sale.

Pat maintains an impressive portfolio of clients including Chase Bank, Citi Bank, Dunkin Donuts, Jiffy Lube, State of Illinois, and Tire Kingdom to name a few, and works diligently to advise, educate and provide a clear understanding to both sides in order to get each deal done.
